Adrian Garza
adrianhgarza@gmail.com
(818) 5905665
2234 Lerner Hall, 2920 Broadway
New York, NY 10027

Objective: Seeking a summer job or internship in technology, or the arts

Columbia University Class of 2018: Computer Science/Creative Writing double major

EMPLOYMENT

The Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles, Executive Intern, Summer 2015
- Ghostwrote for CEO
- Coordinated the first-ever hackathon (day-long coding event) with a nonprofit at a public housing project, Nickerson Gardens in Los Angeles
- Wrote press releases and website content, edited promotional videos
- Assisted in website overhaul and maintenance, provided tech support and training
- Assisted in organizing a college scholarship giveaway to underprivileged youth
- Created and maintained spreadsheets to track surveys and budget data

The Federalist Newspaper, Graphics Editor, 2014-onward
- Wrote articles, assisted with designing layout and publishing
- Designed information graphics and satirical cartoons

Columbia Video Network, 2014-2015
- Remotely recorded lectures, repaired equipment, edited video

Pasadena Weekly Newspaper, Intern and Freelancer, June-August 2014
- Wrote news, science and feature articles, one front page story
- Copy edited, proof-read articles

AWARDS AND RECOGNITION
- Finalist, Presidential Global Fellowship (a Columbia University fellowship)
- Finalist, highly competitive Code2040 tech internship
- Best use of a Google API (HackRutgers 2015)
- Placed into Advanced Fiction workshop as a first-semester sophomore
- Studied with critically acclaimed author Heidi Julavits
- The Opal short story accepted for publication in The Blueshift Journal

SKILLS
- Computer Science: C/C#/C++, TCP/IP and networking protocols, Java, front-end web development

- Software: Microsoft Office (incl. Excel), Adobe Creative Suite, Unity game engine
- Misc: French, Spanish, graphic design, creative, journalistic and analytic writing